Kurzbeschreibung When Sydney Wells, a workaholic lawyer and passionate children's advocate, meets John Appleton, a sexy widower with two young children, fireworks ensue. Thanks to a father who was thwarted in his desire for a son and named his fourth daughter after himself, Sydney has never thought of herself as womanly or sexy or even attractive. But from their first meeting, John recognizes the sexy woman beneath her severe clothing and practical shoes -- a woman he can't stop thinking about -- even though he knows nothing can ever come of the attraction he feels for her. Sydney, too, is more interested in John than she can admit -- even to herself. Despite their differences and all the obstacles in their path, their attraction grows and they can't seem to stay away from one another. Can this romance ever work? Can these two find a way to combine their two distinctly different lives? Or are John and Sydney destined to face heartbreak?

In the hands of Patricia Kay, a USA Today bestselling author of more than 50 novels of romance and women's fiction, LET'S MAKE IT LEGAL is a compelling story of how opposites can not only attract but just possibly bring out the best in each other. Kay is known for her emotionally charged stories that center around the intricate workings of family relationships. Her first mainstream romance, THE WRONG CHILD, (Berkley, 12/2000) was nominated for a Rita by the Romance Writers of America. An acclaimed teacher, she has taught fiction writing classes at the University of Houston, but now limits her teaching to online classes. You can read more about her, her books, and her writing classes on her website at www.patriciakay.com. Here's what others have said about Patricia Kay's books: "A master storyteller . . . Patricia Kay writes from the heart about matters that touch us all." -- Susan Wiggs, NY Times bestselling author "A beautifully written compelling story you won't be able to put down." --- Georgia Bockoven, USA Today bestselling author "If you love LaVyrle Spencer, you'll love Patricia Kay." --- Deborah Smith "Wonderful . . . (a) sparkling romance." --- Eileen Goudge "Kay's writing is solid, and her narrative swiftly reaches a satisfying finish." -- Publisher's Weekly "Patricia Kay writes from the heart about people we come to love." --- Christina Dodd, NY Times bestselling author "Heartrending and touching . . .
