Tom Holt gets his fingers on it. Polly is working at Blue Remembered Hills Development plc and she is quite irritated. Somebody is drinking her coffee, writing into her desk diary, has phone conversations in her name with clients and sometimes even does her work. And now somebody even invited her to a darts match against the team of another company. And the dress from the dry-cleaner is gone, because the dry-cleaner doesn't exist anymore - even though Google Earth is sure it did yesterday. And this is only the beginning of the dimension- and time-hopping insanities that the heroes and readers of Tom Holt's newest work can expect on its pages. Speedily paced and with a lot of humorous to hilarious language this is easily one of the best Holt's in the last five to six years.

Kurzbeschreibung Polly, an average, completely ordinary property lawyer, is convinced she's losing her mind. Someone keeps drinking her coffee. And talking to her clients. And doing her job. And when she goes to the dry cleaner's to pick up her dress for the party, it's not there. Not the dress - the dry cleaner's. And then there are the chickens who think they are people. Something strange is definitely going on - and it's going to take more than a magical ring to sort it out. Pressestimmen A great mix of the fantastical and the funny . . . another great satirical offering from Tom Holt that entertains thoroughly while effortlessly moving between the silly and the smart (Bookgeeks.co.uk) Crazy, absurd, complex and hilarious . . . His writing is in the same mould as that of Terry Pratchett, Douglas Adams and Jasper Fforde (TheBookBag.co.uk) Pressestimmen A great mix of the fantastical and the funny ... another great satirical offering from Tom Holt that entertains thoroughly while effortlessly moving between the silly and the smart Bookgeeks.co.uk Crazy, absurd, complex and hilarious ...
