BeautifulVon Philomena(Cheekypee)What a fantastic gripping book this is. This is mainly the story of Erin who crawled out of her wretched past to make something of her life. This storyline had me glued to it. The author put me through so many emotions.... Going from angry to sad so many times was unbelievable. I felt my emotions were being stretched in this story. Told from two points of view. Loved this story. Received in return for an honest review.

I want to tell you how I lived each moment to the fullest. How each breath I took was fresh and full of life. With eagerness. Without any fear.I want to tell you all of that, but then my story would be masked with lies and not worth telling.My life didnt start until I left my past. And I left everything My mother, my friends, my name. My new name, the name everyone knows me by is Erin Lewis.Four years after finding the courage to leave her hometown in Alabama, Erin is finally happy with where her life has led her. Not only is she secure in her environment, but the relationships she has formed center her, making her forget how damaged she once was. Before she can fully settle into her new life, her past crashes into her present, unraveling a set of events that destroy the very foundation she has built her new life on.KurzbeschreibungBook #1 Life's A CappellaBook #2 Our A Cappella (to be released April)I want to tell you how great my life was. My son loves stories, but not the kind you can read in an existing book. No, hed rather make up a story, complete with our own illustrations. So, thank you, Son, for igniting a flame I had let go out. I also live with two dogs: a neurotic Border Collie we call Nitro and a midget Rottweiler named Nisa. I have always found my sanctuary at the beach and in music and writing. I wish I could write rhymes so I could become a famous rapper, but rhyming is completely lost on me. I have a Bachelors degree in Business Management and a Masters in Human Resource Management. I have held several jobs, from picking up dog crap to upper management positions. And now I am hoping to leave the business world behind so I can live full time in a world that does not exist until I place my fingers on a keyboard and bring them to fruition.
