Stricken by grief he blames his roguish brother and after trying to kill his brother, retreats to a cottage by the sea to try to find atonement. Instead he one day finds a woman trying to commit suicide, rescues her and then starts a journey of discovery, finding his sense of duty and protection has not gone away. Evelyn Waye is trying to escape marriage to a murdering evil man the only way she knows how. However when rescued by Adam she begins to trust his assurances of safety. But can Adam really keep Evie safe? Is there actually darkness and danger inside Adam that might cause her harm? Can Adam give up his vengeance against the pirates he has been chasing for years, and can he heal the rift with his family? This book was a reasonable read with a variety of situations and an interesting cast of characters, some of whom have clearly been in an earlier novel. At times there was something a little childlike about the writing style with scenes feeling quite short and moments of drama over fairly quickly. Adam's tortured nature was well written although Evie's character was a little harder to get into. Overall this was a reasonably successful read but had few real surprises. Kurzbeschreibung His embrace will be her escape . . . Lonely and overcome with grief after a painful loss in his past, Adam Westmore walks the ocean's edge in solitude. Forced to marry a depraved prince, a desperate Evelyn Waye believes she has no choice but to throw herself from the jagged cliffs into the crashing surf below. When Adam sees the enchanting woman in terrible danger, he rescues her from death and brings her back to his humble cottage. Hesitant to reveal his true identity as a distinguished lord, he nonetheless offers to protect her. And she needs protection, for the prince will find her - and harm her. Evelyn wants to trust the handsome stranger who saved her life, but her cursed beauty has made her suspicious of all men . . . even one whose kindness disarms her, whose gentle touch inspires passion within her. Soon Adam and Evelyn are consumed by desire . . . a dangerous desire that puts their very lives in peril.
